Scores of Passengers Perish on an Underground Electric Line.

Emply Trains Take Fire and Unfortunate Working Perpie Unable to Escape from the Wayside Stations Become Panic-stricken and Suffocate-Eighty-two Bodies Recovered and Others Supposed to Be in Debris.

PARIS, Aug. 11. - [By Atlantic Cable.] Eightytwo bodies have been recovered from trains which were destroyed by fire last night on the Metropolitan Electric Railway, an underground line. The total number of victims is estimated at ninety.

Meanwhile, a crowded train reached Les Charounes, the preceding station, and the officials, seeing smoke pouring through the tunnel gave the alarm. A panic ensued, the passengers struggling to escape. Amid the increasing smoke many attempted to return along the line toward Believille, and were suffocated. The officials seem to have lost their-heads, and are unable to say how many passengers went out.

The firemen for several hours were how many passengers went out.

The firemen for several hours were unable to enter the station or the tunnel, owing to the dense smoke which poured out in black clouds. Meanwhile, tens of thousands of anxious people gathered about the station. All the police and fire engines were on the spot, and the excitement was intense. The firemen finally succeeded in flooding the burning mass, and shortly afterward they were able to enter the tunnel. They brought up the corpses of five men and two women, all belonging to the working class.

LATER FROM LONDON.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] An awful catastrophe occurred last evening on the Metropolitan Electric Railroad, which runs mostly underground, in which many persons lost their lives. Up to 2 o'clock a.m., seven bodies had been recovered, and the search still continued.

One of the trains broke down at Menimontant, which is in a poor and populous section of the city. This train was promptly emptied, and the train which followed was o'rdered to push it to the repairing sheds. On the way, these two trains caught fire, but the employes succeeded in escaping.

WO OUTLAWS SLAIN.

GUTHRIE (Okia.) Aug. 10.—Two members of the Martin gang of outlaws, who engaged in a fight on Saturday with a posse of deputy sheriffs in the Osage Indian Nation, died today. Deputy Haines, who was shot, is improving.

Deputy Haines, who was shot, is improving.

Two months ago the Martin gang held up and robbed nearly a hundred travelers on a lonely road. They are also charged with killing a citizen in the robbery of the railroad station at Hennessey; with killing City Marshai Cross of Geary, and with robbing the postoffice at Hopeton. The officers have been following them ever since the wholesale outlaw raid, and it was during this chase that Cross was killed.

Heavy storms in the territory have prostrated wires, and details of the fight are lacking. The names of the dead outlaws are not known. Officers have been subpoensed from all portions of the Territory in an attempt to identify the bodies.

OFFICIAL REPORT. WASHINGTON (D. C.) Aug. 16.—The Commissioner of Indian Affairs today received the following telegram from Agent Mitscher, in charge of the Osage Indian agency at Pawhusa, Okla.: "Officers Bennett, Haines and Majors, in a pitched battle with outlaws last evening, killed one and mortally wounded another. The third is still at large. Officer Haines was dangerously wounded."

This order that Posts Honolully, Aug. 18.—[By Pacific Cable.] The Supreme Cours today rendered its decision in the disbarment proceedings instituted against prominent attorneys by Atty-Gen. Andrews. The court disbars former Circuit Judge. A. S. Humphreys and George A. Desti. Frank Thompson is suspended from practicing for one year. Attorney J. A. Magoon is exonerated. Justice Galbraith rendered a dissenting opinion in all of the cases.

The court holds that Humphreys is guilty of attempting to induce Magoon, to betray his client, Summer, and also of opposing his ex-client. Summer. Thompson is found guilty of opposing his ex-client. Summer. Thompson is found guilty of abusing a legal process. It was alleged that he forced the aged Summer to pay him an exorbitant fee through intimidation. Justice Galbraith says that Davis and Thompson are deserving of Highter punishment, and that Magoon, on the charge of collecting an exorbitant fee, is deserving of some punishment.

It will be remembered that, in 1877, Riussia's action against Turkey was preceded by a period of unrest among the Russian people. Whether Russia will move in the Far East or the near East is doubtful. Her preparations against Japan diminish the chance for effective action in the West, yet the Russian treasury can, in an emergency, lay its hands on 187,000,000 in gold in the State Bank, besides drawing on the vast wealth of the church. ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 16—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Cara has demanded the exemplary punishment not only of the murderer of the Russian Consul at Monastir, who was killed last week by Turkish gendarmes, but of all the military and civil officials in any way responsible for the crime. The assasination of the Russian Consul at Monastir, M. Rostkovoski, is the second murder of a Russian consul in Macedonia within a few months, and has created intense indignation here.

In reporting the occurrence to the Foreign Office, the Russian ambassador telegraphed August 8 from Constantinople, as follows: "The Russian Consul at Monastir has fallen the victim of an atrocious crime. The Grand Vizier and the Turkish Foreign Minister have come to me with expressions of regret in the name of the Sultan. Ferid Pasha, the Grand Vizier, informed me that the assassin was a gendarme named Halim, and that he will be subjected to the seyerest punishment, and the Vall of Monastir will be removed from his place."

In reply, Count Lamsdorf, the Foreign Minister, telegraphed to the ambassador August 9: "His Majesty has received a telegram from the Sutlan expressing his deep regret at the death of the Russian Consul at Monastir. When I showed the telegram to the Emperor, His Majesty gave orders that you should not confine yourself to receiving expressions from the Grand Vizier, but should make the most energetic demands on the Turkish government for full satisfaction and immediate and exemplary punishment, both of the murderer and of all the military and civil officers on whom responsibility for the audacious crime may fall."

LONDON, Aug. IL.—IBP Atlantic Cable.] The Times this morning prints a dispatch from Soda which says it is believed there that the Turkish government provoked the present Macedonian rising, for not only has Turkey failed to execute the promises made to the Bulgarian government for the amelioration of the sondition of the Bulgarian Macedonians, but she has increased her persecution and maltreatment, thus exasperating them.

If the Turks should try now to suppress the rebellion by the massacre of innocent people, the Bulgarian government would be obliged to intervene.

According to the report made by the fincial now in charge of the Russian consulate at Monastir, the murderer is a gendarme. The Consul asked his name, because, in defiance of instructions, the gendarme did not salute him. The gendarme thereupon fired several thots, mortally wounding the Consul in the head and hip. The horse drawing the carriage in which the Consul was riding, received two bullets, and

They killed the garrison, consisting of fifty-two soldiers, dynamited and burned the government headquarters and hoisted on a hill a red flag bearing on one side a lion with the inscription "Death or liberty," and on the other side the words "Courage, brethren." The rebels were still in possession of the town when the letters were sent off.

Practically the whole country north of Monastir is in revolt. The Turkish official reports state that fresh bands of revolutionary forces in large numbers have crossed the frontier from Bulgaria during the last few days. The local Bulgarian officials, however, deny this, and declare that the strictest watch is being kept along the frontier.

The spectators were greatly amused at this outburst. The judge ordered Mme. Humbert to be silent, but she again shouted: "You are continually showing your prejudices."

Frederic Humbert testified lengthily regarding the affairs of the Rente Viaere, the insurance concern which the Humberts started, and in the crash of which thousands of poor people lost all their savings. He maintained that the operations were conducted in good faith and claimed that public prejudice aroused against the Humbert family brought about the failure of the concern. Frederic Humbert said he had devoted most of his time to art and poetry, leaving the entire financial operations, to his wife. The court began the examination of PACERVILE, Aug. 10.—That one the escaped convicts from Folsom rison or some other criminal is in se vicinity of Placerville, was fully stablished this evening. Shortly after o'clock, James Martin, a miner, telephoned to Sheriff Bosquit that he ad been held up and robbed of his mach pail about one mile south of the bown by a rough-appearing man carring a rife, Martin tells his story as allows:

formed Sheriff Bosquit organised a posse and started in search of the fellow, but after several hours' search through heavy timber and underbrush no trace of him could be discovered. It is thought that the man is still somewhere in the vicinity of the robbery, and watch will be kept in the hope that trace of him will be found.

Frank Stinger, also a miner, reported today that he had seen a man of similar appearance, but without a gun, near the same spot yesterday. The belief has prevailed here for several days that one had seen a man of similar appearance, but without a gun, near the same spot yesterday. The Island of Martinique was swept by a hurricane of great violence last night. Its duration was ten hours, and it was particularly severe during two hours at Fort de France, where it caused much destruction. Hundreds of houses were unroofed, and several sailing vessels were badly damaged. No fatalities, however, have been reported.
The streets are encumbered with debris from the tiled roofs, and the roads are impassable on account of fallen trees, which were literally torn up by the roots. Geveral other towns on the island suffered. The storm moved in a northwesterly direction.

BANK DEPOSITS INCREASE. BANK DEPOSITS INCREASE.

The increase in the deposits of Chicago banks in the last ten years has been remarkable, the gain being from $117,000,000 to over $500,000,000. With the exception of New York, no eity in the country shows so large a gain since 1896. The reserve carried by the larger banks of this city is over 32 per cent., and some of the trust companies carry as high as 46 per cent. Chicago has cash in the vaults of its banks amounting to over 21 cents for every dollar of deposits. St. Louis has 15 cents, Philadelphia 3 cents, Boston 7 cents, New York 11 cents.

"The non-union man may or may not be a scab. Let us think of him now as a scab or strike-breaker. For such a man I have little respect. There may be no law to prevent him living off the spoils of strikes, but there is a moral law, the law of social cooperation and social help. Such a man is not a hero. He is not a man for whom anybody can have respect. As Mr. Gunton says: 'In ninety per cent of the cases he is a loose, treegular, disreputable, quasi "tramp laborer." He follows labor disturbances a bussure hunt carrion, for what is left. He sometimes receives more And, in closing:

"The greatest enemy of labor is the professional labor leader. He is as dangerous as the plutcerat. The standing menace to the consumer is the salaried leader whose business it is to breed emistly between employer and employe. Strikes, violence or bloodshed are not caused by the majority, but by a few hot-headed leaders. The average workingman is sensible, but the average labor leader is a disturber of industrial peace. He is looking for trouble and finds it. He makes men feel that there is an irreconcilable difference between labor and capital. The labor question can never be amicably settled while the workingman is made to think the employer is his mortal enemy. Before God he is not, and the man who preaches that doctrine, without discernment, is labor's greatest foe."

Thou shaft not steal thy neighbors job' is one of the cardinal commandments of industry, but the punishment of the violation of this commandment must be done by the enactment and enforcement of a State law, and not by liphs and nistols. Ballots are better.

It is quite true, as the Rev. Rader so pertinently observes, that there is no law to warrant the killing of a man merely because he is unwise. If there were such a law, the fool-killer would be compelled to work overtime the year round, and possibly the number of preachers in the country would

Most interesting among the fran-chise provisions, perhaps, are those relating to rates. The authorized charge for individual full, metallic circuit, with long-distance instrument for business houses, is "not less than more than four dollars per month, and two dollars per month for residence service." Provision is made for other service as follows: "For residence driven out of employment by the con-certed action (otherwise conspiracy) service as follows: "For residence of members of the union. The unions of members of the union. The unions are full of such "scabs" who have not to exceed two on a line, selective stoled the jobs of better men.

"Observe the working of the boycott. We have, for example, in San Francisco a tuneral car which conveys the dead to the cemetery. This car might be run to the front door of a bouse from which the dead might be taken, and placed in the car, without the expense of carriages, but the Hsckmen's Union compels that car, by the threat of a boycott on the undertaker in charge, to stand in three places only in order to necessitate the use of carriages and hearse. Such conditions must breed more and more the spirit of forcible resistance in the hearts of fair-minded citisens."

For instance, it is possible for a municipality to secure a reduction in the rate for telephone service when it grants the franchise, by retaining such a control of the service that it will have the right to dictate the rates at any future time, should it be apparent that they are unreasonably large. It is possible, also, to establish telephone systems of their own, and if there should be a concerted effort on the part of the various municipalities throughout the country—it is a thoroughly practical proposition—not more than a decade would elapse before the mosopoly would be brought into thorough subjection. The Great Silk Sale Continues.

Coultet Dry 317-319-321-323-325 South Broadway, Los A

Silk selling yesterday simply sur-passed our most sanguine expecta-

Sixteen salesmen selling silks as fast as shears could snip off these matchless fabrics.

A NEW precedent in silk selling has been set; one to be long remembered in the retail circles of this city-a remarkable merchandise event-unapproached and paapproachable.

Today additional salespeople and helpers—la better accommodate the crowds.

Black Silks

At this writing we hardly know "where we're as"— so great has been the rush. Stocks, of course are considerably upset—but we feel sale in saying there are silks a-plenty for all who come today.

Health and Song. The London concert season, which bas come to a close, has called atten-tion to a discovery the doctors have made that wocalism is a healthy pro-tion to a discovery the dectors have made that wocalism is a healthy profession.

... quiet baby who never gives way to tantrams and tears is not a healthy, but a weakly, child. When his voice is raised in a piercing crescendo of screams his lungs are expanding, his blood is circulating well, and he is gaining strength and beauty momentarily. Translate the salutary shrieks of infancy into the educated singing of maturity and the net result is the same-namely, a large increase of health and concilness.

Ansemic boys and girls are now being ordered by doctors to take singing lessons, because such persons do not know how to breathe properly and the singing master teaches them the art. Very few people utilize the whole of their lung power when they breathe, but get into a lazy way of merely gasping or breathing superficially. Candidates for the army whose chest measurement lacks the requisite number of inches take singing lessons to increase their girth, or, if their voices lack the musical element, they attend breathing classes and learn where their breathing should come from—that is to sav how they should draw each breath, how long they should retain it, and how emit it. Though mankind must breathe in order to live, few human beings know how to breathe properly.

After the ansemic girl with the bowed shoulders and the contracted chest has taken a dozen lessons in singing her back begins to fiatten and her chest to develop. Her complexion freshens, and she notices with pleasure a rose-leaf stain, reddening her cheeks.

The professional songress retains the freshness of youth into old age, ure a rose-leaf stain reddening ner cheeks.

The professional songress retains the freshness of youth into old age, not entirely as a result of the care she takes of her health and the excellent food she eats for the sake of her voice, but mainly because she breathes perfectly and exercises her vocal organs rugularly. It is acting on this principle to saiddle-agd women inclined to embonipoint now take breathing lessons at a fashiosable school in South Kemsinston where waists are coaxed back to figures long devoid of them, and new visor is given to the ageing "hysique.—[London Bfall.]

CARRIES THE RIVERSIDE STAKE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-F.E.)

CHICAGO. Aug. 10.—Orsina, the filly which caused C. Lind & Co. to be ruled off, following her defeat the last time out, easily won the Riverside stakes at Harlem today. She led all the way and won by two lengths, pulled almost to a walk. The stake was a selling affair, and was worth $2200 to the winner. Orsina was éntered to be sold for 2000, and was rung up to $2500 and bought in by Pat Dwyer for the customary extra $5. Summary:

ence." For seven innings Mique's men led the league; but now he stands a monument to the failacy of trying to win a pennant with raw recruits on the firing line.

When the Senators were playing up, there were grave doubts in the minds of many, and now that the team is practically "down and out" so far as being a pennant possibility is concerned, everybody admits having been cocksure from the first that Mique's hiatus was a temporary one; that the team was playing ahead of its game; and more of the same sort, all mostly true.

niatus was a temporary one; that the team was playing ahead of its game; and more of the same bort, all mostly true.

In the splendid showing of the Senators while it lasted, not enough credit is generally given to the magnetic personality of Fisher. The average of his team, figured by past performances, never justified its place in the league, but the band had a snap and vim, a la Sunny Jim, that helped ft wonderfully. The personnel of the outfit outside the box was nothing sensational, but would stand analysis well; Mique has a trio of hard-hitting outfielders and clewer fielding basemen, a flugging shristop and a fair catcher. His pitching corps was culled mostly from the primitive brush which to this day encircles Sacramento, and it is simply suffering the fate which by all precedent is "coming" to it. Thomas is a good man for a youngster and so is Cutter. Brown, O'Keefe and Frizgerald, Young, and the rest were promising amateurs of the kind that any club is glad to try occasionally in limited number, but to try to replace a seasoned pitching corps with them is like sending a lot of untried, untrained schoolboys up a canister-swept hill; a "forlorn hope" proposition that will only bring wee to the one who pins his faith to it.

If Fisher buys a pair of twirlers to help out Cutter and Thomas, he will still be a factor in the race. Otherwise his future lot lies with the able members of the second division. Los Angeles has future lot lies with the able members of the second division. Los Angeles to be the pennant complexion of the league on present form. The prediction that San Francisco would be the feam Los Angeles had to beat is verifying itself every day, and is simply another proof of the old sporting adage that "class will tell."

Since baseball began there has been only one team that seemed to excel in all parts of the national game, and that is the team which has led the National League for two years—the Pittsburghs—and it so far outclasses the rest that the race last year was uninteresting and forced the league to see to it that the Pirates parted with a few men before another season.

Nobody ever hears of the Los Angeles Nationals any more. Now that Garrett has passed out of it, the club is generally considered as an allen by local fans. The fact that Henry Hart owned it from the start has been intended for their larger relatives. Had any one cared to put on small hooks a boat might have been filled with the little fellows but those which were caught came as a by-product of the croaker chasing. Few care to "monkey" with the small fry when the spotfins are cruising about hunting for trouble, with the small fry when the spotfins are cruising about hunting for trouble, with the small fry when the spotfins are cruising about hunting for trouble, it to show that a few men before another season.

Nobody ever hears of the Los Angeles Nationals any more. Now that Garrett has passed out of it, the club is generally considered as an alien by local fans. The fact that Henry Hart owned it from the start has been printed repeatedly in these columns and announcement to that effect surprised no one here. The Nationals had a fair field and no fayer; all that any league can expect when invading the territory of another already well established. It falled miserably because it put up an inferior attraction. Grave doubt exists whether the Los Angeles Nationals will ever come here again as a ball team. They have only a very few games scheduled. If they do, there will be hardly a familiar face on the batting order.

will be hardly a familiar face on the batting order.

What looks to minor-league men very much like a cold-blooded "steal" of the "might makes right" order is now in progress by C. A. Comiskey, manager of the Chicago Americans. D. C. Packard, owner of the Denver Western League Club, is the principal loser, for the men involved are Jones and Dundon of that team. Comiskey claims a prior contract with the players, but never discovered it until he began to need reinforcements. A fine thing, this having minor-league managers pay your extra men's salaries until you want them!

The cry of "peanut policy" has been made against the Oakland management this year, and not without some reason, it would seem. Lohman probably thinks one pennant is enough for a while. The reverses of form shown by Pete's hirelings—leaders one year; tail-enders the year before and afterare bewildering.

the feam Los Angeles had to beat is verifying itself every day, and is simply another proof of the old sporting adage that "class will tell."

Considerable fault has been found with the Los Angeles team upon the acore of light hitting. Many fans think Morley's men are not doing the batting of champions, and wonder at their standing in the league which figure ahead of the locals in stickwork averages, it must be remembered that there are other things to the game of baseball than batting. A glance at the Portland team which is the salary source of Van Buren, Nadeau, Huriburt, Andy Anderson and other gentlemen of clubswinging reputations, show that hitting is not everything.

Splendid fielding, sensational base running, brainy teamwork at all three points of the game, and fair but consistent batting are responsible for the present position of the Seraphs. The team is just where it figures to shine in its present company. Morley's club has an unusual percentage of odd, wischeds in it for a minor-league aggregation; fielders like Hoy who know the trick of "trapping" a ball; infielders like Toman, Smith and Dillon, who know the it emers their territory.

Since baseball began there has been found with the last and slowed up somewhat the search of the same and rays proved sufficiently fond of the latter to make the using when it enters their territory.

Since baseball began there has been found the barbool of small yellowfine put in an appearance and began tearing off the succulent gobs of clam that were listended for their latery relatives. Had Dudley Dutton, H. T. Van Wiper and another gentleman. The trio were in trouble from the very start. Dutton is a very nervous individual, but a keen fisherman withal, and on seeing others pulling out fish a few rods away he thought a pilgrimage thereto would be in order. Another of the party wanted to go elsewhere. Van Wiper wanted to go elsewhere. Van Wiper wanted to stay where the killing was. The upshot of it was the triplets wandered forth in the wildest mass that has been traced in the bay yet. First it came on to sprinkle; there were all kinds and descriptions of weather during the morning, and the rainfall moved Dutton to thoughts of shelter. The party pulled in under the wharf. Then Dutton wanted to fish, and they rowed back again, taking up a position which gave them a good command of various an shor ropes on one of which Dutton proceeded to foul his gear. Some picturesque "verblage" followed. Then the triplets' anchor failed to hold against the rising tide, and they began to drift. Finally, Dutton wanted to go home. It sounded like a debate upon the Irish land question in the House of Commons for about ten minutes, at the conclusion of which time the party adjourned to the sardine cannery for reinforcements. None of them got many fish: they didn't have time between talks to haul out the croakers. Then to cap the climax Van Wiper got foul of a stingray and the "baste" towed the heavenly triplets nearly up to Wilmington before Van became busy with the reel and sounded taps on the thing's ugly cranium. All in all, it was a grand day, and the three seemed to enjoy it immensely.

In the afternoon Councilman Ed Kern came down to wallow in croaker gore. He joined operations with Lasarand and Sheriff at the cannery, where they were joined a little later by W. S. Skeel and his partner. Skeel has been carrying a sawed-off shotgun for reckless launch skippers since a certain sunday not long ago, but has had no chance to unlimber it yet.

Farmers' and Merchants' Bank Did Things Yesterday.

Two Stories High and Will Cost Quarter of a Million Dollars.

Importance to the city of Los Angeles and widespread interest for spancial circles attach to the meeting of the directorss of the Parmers' and Merchants' National Bruik yesterday, afternoon. The action of the directors is in line with the growth and strength of that stalwart institution, and in many ways will make for the material progress of both bank and community. When Isaias W. Hellman, president, arrived from San Francisco on Saturday, he intimated that he had some big cards up his sleeve, and yesterday he played them.

intimated that he had some big cards up his sleeve, and yesterday he played them.

By vote of the directors the capital stock of the Farmers and Merchants' was increased from 10,000 shares to 15,000 shares of the oar value of $100 each, giving the bunk a capital of $1,000,000 as herestore. This increase of $500,000 in the bunk's capital is accompanied by the amountement, further, that the surplus of the bank has been doubled, naving been increased from $500,000.

Thus is the available capital of the Parmers' and Merchants' National minds $2,500,000—an increase of $1,000,000 by yesterday's action of the board of directors.

Speaking of this forward step last might, Mr. Hellman said: "It has always been my policy, and that of this bank, to ingintal a strong reserve; otherwise, had we visited to make a big show or anything of that sort, we might have increased our capital stock to $2,000,000, and left the reserve at $500,000, but we chose to keep down our stock and increase our surplus—which is certainly a strong, conservative policy."

The disposition of the new 5000 shares has also been determined. Of this number 2500 shares will be offered to stockholders of the bank in proportion to their present holdings, at $200 per share, while the remaining 2500 shares will be offered to the cilents and triends of the bank at the amount of stock offered to the public.

IN TRIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

BAKEISFIELD, Aug. 9.—Visitors to the oil fields say that the outlook is for a quiet month compared with those just passed. A number of companies have suspended operations temporarily, but will resume in the fall. Many of the managers and superintendents have gone on vacations during the summer, and many are allowing all the work they can to go until fall. The comparative duliness in sight for the present month does not mean that the activity in the business is to cease permanently, or that the demand for oil is failing off. On the contrary, it is increasing rapidly. The only cessation of activity is due to the same causes which make all business duil during the summer months everywhere. Many properies are being exploited and activity will be resumed within clusty days.

Two new companies are about to enter the Kern River field at once. One of them is the Veteran Oil Company, just organized by C. T. Deane, secretary of the California Petroleum Minera Association. This company has obtained twenty acres in the field, and will of the Company is being organized by Dr. A. H. Licrom, superintendent of the Vesta Oil Company. This rompany has cecured ten acres just north of the Vesta property. Dr. Licrom is from Los Angeles, and it is understood that capitalists of that city are interested in the enferprise. The company has not been named.

The Xekittrick Oil Company, one of the first companies to enter the McKittrick field, and which was organized by local capital, has passed through all manner of prosperity and adversity during its long career successfully, and now finds itself in a better position than ever before. It has many wells in operation, has good contracts for its oil, and is reported to be in receipt of an excellent income.

Strength of an Egg Shell.

Most people are aware of the power of egg shells to resist external pressure on the ends, but not many would cre-lit the results of tests recently made, which appear to be genuine. Eight ordinary hen's eggs were submitted to pressure applied externally all over the surface of the shell, and the breaking pressures varied between 400 pounds and 675 pounds per square inch. With the stresses applied internally to twelve eggs, these gave way at pressures varying between thirty-two and sixty-five pounds per square inch. The pressure required to crush the eggs varied between forty pounds and seventy-five pounds. The average thickness of the shells was .013 of an inch.—[Scientifio American.

WALL STREET MAY RISE AND FALL

Panics may wipe eastern industrials from the face of the earth, and the money market may become clogged, all of which will not affect the stability and income of the California Development Co., because its very foundation is based upon the life-giving fluid, water, which is the commodity offered for sale by the company. With water, wealth is being accumulated in the Imperial Valley. There is absolutely no question concerning the profits of the enterprise. Los Angeles and Southern California investors should see to it that not one share of the stock offered for sale goes east of the Rocky Mountains. Support a laudable home enterprise. Savings Bank depositors, take notice.

-ANNOUNCEMENT-

The California Development Company

of New Jersey

Organized under the Laws of the State of New Jersey April 24, 1896.

Capital Stock $1,250,000. 12,500 Shares; Par Value, $100.00 Each Principal Office, 243-245 Washington street, Jersey City, New Jersey. General Office, 224 Stowell Block, Los Angeles, California. Chief Engineer's Office, Calexico, San Diego County, California. Local Offices, Imperial and Hanlon's Heading, California.

This corporation, up to the present time, has been a close one. Three-fourths of the capital stock is owned by five individuals. The dinary growth of the business of the company demands more cash capital, and in order to procure the same without increasing the bonded debt of the company, the said owners of three-fourths of the capital stock have agreed to surrender 4000 shares and offer the same for sale to the public, the proceeds of which will be loaned to the company on long time at 6 per cent. per annum for the purpose of paying its floating debt and creating a construction fund to enlarge and increase the capacity of its plant.

The company at present is earning about 15 per cent upon its entire capitalization and there is no reason to doubt that the earnings will reach 25 per cent next season. However, it has been deemed advisable, up to this date, instead of declaring dividends, to utilize the income of the company for improving and enlarging the plant.

On the first day of January next, the first dividend will be declared. The basis will be four per cent. per annum for the first year, after which it will be the policy of the company to increase the dividend to eight per cent. per annum. Extra dividends will be declared from time to time as the surplus accumulates.

The business of the company is to develop water and sell the same at wholesale to other corporations for domestic and irrigation purposes. The present capacity of the plant supplies 800,000 acre-feet of water per annum, which is sold to other corporations at 50 cents per acre-feet under perpetual

We deem it unnecessary to go into detail in this statement, but refer to "From Desert to Garden," a pamphlet published by the Imperial Land Company, the general agent for this corporation, which said pamphlet gives a full and complete description of the company's plans and enterprise.

The proceeds of the sale of stock now offered at 90 per cent. of its par value, will enable the company to more than double the present capacity

Another source of income, in addition to the sale of water, when developed, is the water power owned by the company, created by drope and falls in its main water conduits, which will, in the future, realize to the company, without diminishing or interfering with the water supply used for other purposes, not less than $250,000 per annum net.

not less than $250,000 per annum net.

It will be noticed from the financial statement, which follows, that the book value of the stock is now $172, and at the price offered is afbargain.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Ingersoll's Birthday.

The Liberal Club will celebrate the seventieth anniversary of the birth of Robert G. Ingersoli at Elks' Hall tonight. The formal programme will be principally musical, with a reading of extracts from Ingersoll's works.

Te Gold Park.

Dr. Stephen Bowers of the State Mining Bureau leaves Los Angeles to-day for a sojourn of two weeks in Gold Park, about ten miles south of Twenty-nine Palms, where he will ex-amine mining properties of the Gold Park Mining Company.

The Gold Peak mine has sent its treasurer, the Broadway Bank and Trust Company, another gold brick. Weight, five pounds; vaiue, 1855. The company has erected a five-stamp mill, with complete cyanide plant attached, and the works are running steadily. They report ore enough blocked out to run the mill for months.

Bouse and Shed.

By the explosion of a gasoline stove yesterday afternoon, the house of L. R. Anderson, No. 325 Welcome street, was set on fire, but the blaze was quickly extinguished by engines. Loss 325. A barn in the rearrr of the house, occupied by J. Martinola, No. 409 San Pernando street, was ignited through an unknown cause yesterday after-good. Loss 320.

A gang of four burgiars, all but one of them well dressed, tried to f. ree an intrance into a house at No. 319 South arand avenue last night shortly after o'clock. Three of them climbed a re escape and each tried to open sparate windows, but the noise attracted the attention of the occupants of the house and when they went to avestate the four men fied.

"trs. L. Alexander, who conucts the Claremont" rooming-house, No. 321% West Fourth street, reported to the detectives last night that some time during the evening a thief had entered a room in her house and stolen a gold watch, a fine gold ring in when there were several small diamonds and 43. No one saw the thief and the theft was not discovered for an house more after it had been committed.

Swensen Killing Case Reopened.

Information has been received here

Information has been received here to the effect that the case of Newton Brown, who killed Anton Swensen, has been reopened in Mexico to receive the statement of A. Suonez, who witnessed the shooting. He testified that the men were shooting rabbits, and that when either discharged the gun they did not reload it until ready for another shot; that Swensen nred the weapon last before the fatal shooting, and to the best of the witness' knowlege Swensen reloaded the gun and passed it back to Brown, and that the later did not Brown, and that the later did not know it was loaded, and while getting ready to load it it was accidentally discharged. This is an entirely new version.

Ten Wheels Stolen.

Ten Wheels Stolen.

From the number of bicycles reported stolen yesterday it would seem that some thief is doing what severad others have tried to do in the past, that is steal a sufficient number to make it worth his while to ship them to some other city to sell. The detectives' officewas notified between 5 o'clock yesterday morning and 5 o'clock in the afterboon of the thefits of ten bicycles. The officers succeeded in recovering two of them in places where they had been abandoned, but no trace of the other eight has been found. One of the officers succeeded in recovering two of wheels worth stealing would lock them when they leave them on the street, the work of the detective department would be decreased more than one-fifth. It now takes all of the time of listore than one officer to look up stolen eath of Prof. Marchand.

Prof. A. D. Marchand.

Prof. A. D. Marchand died Saturday at his home, No. 1237 Bush street. Frof. Marchand was one of the best-known mining experts in Southern California, and for some years has been superintendent of the great Yellow Aster mine at Randsburg. Prof. Marchand became iii from overwork there some time ago, and for the past few months has been confined to his home. He was born in Paris, and studied science and art thoroughly in the French capital. He was an expert on mineralogy, and was employed by the British government for a time in Australia. He was one of the first to assay gold in California, having come here in 52 his father being a friend of Sutter, upon whose place gold was first found. Prof. Marchand resided in this city for about sixteen years, and will perhaps be remembered as the designer of the floats for the first big Fiests.

MINERS' DEADLY WORMS.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—The government's efforts to check the tropical worm disefforts to check the tropical worm disease among the mine operatives in the Essen district have proved unsuccessful. The latest reports indicate that the disease is spreading. Its presence has just been discovered in the colonies of Franziska and Bergmann, in the middle of the Ruhr region, which hitherto has been exempt from the disease. According to previous reports, the tropical worm disease has attacked 20,000 Westphalian miners. The government commission investigating the disease reported that only those miners who rarely see the sunlight are affiicted. The disease is fatal.

The repeal of the proclamation pro-hibiting the exportation of arms and ammunition to China was published in the London Gazette last evening.

Result of Annoying and Indecent Campaign of Boycotting Circularizers.

Les Angeles Women Declare They Will Not Submit to Such Insoient Dictation, but Will Trade at Hamburger's More than Ever-Exposure of the Libeis and Complete Defeat of Libelers' Plans.

tionists have caused a wave of non-est indignation to spring up among those numerous good women of Los Angeles who have been pestered with circulars and cards from these con-spirators, some of them silly, others insulting, two or three lewd and crimare an affront and annoyance to ev Angeles rise up in protest.

And what is the practical form which their protest takes? They declare in so many words that they will show their scorn of boycotting and love of fair play by doing all they can to increase the business of the People's Store. The effect of the boycott on Hamburg-er's is to expand their trade. The public is always on the side of the wronged. "We shall trade at Hamburger's all the more," say the women who have received more," say the women who have received those lewd and threatening cards.

The tremendous force of public opinion accounts for the enormous business which the Hamburger store, The Times and other boycotted concerns in Los Angeles are doing today. Public opinion is with them.

The People's Store is recognized as one of the leading and most honorable business houses in Los Angeles, and is noted for its kind treatment of its force of 500 workers, to whom it pays liberal wages, and for whom it has generously initiated a Saturday half-holiday. The campaign against the proprietors is unwarranted, as well as unlawful. The agitators have nevermade a case against them; if they could have made their charges stick, public opinion would have driven the Hamburgers out of business long ago. There is not a syllable of truth or jusevery one of them has been exploded heretofore and shown to be false and libelous. The boycotters succeeded in making a purely technical offense stick against one of the employes of the Hamburgers, by dint of constant spotting. There is not a store or concern in the city, employing messenger boys, against whom the same allegation might not be made. There is not a merchant employing boys and girls who might not be haled before a court for some such offense, committed unintentionally, as was the case at Hamburger's, in which case, by the way, the boy was anxious to go back to work.

That the Hamburger's ever applied opprobrious epithets to working people is as great a falsehood as ever was devised. The second libel on the card is the worst of all.

The statement (No. 3) with regard to the Hamburgers' San Francisco store is entirely groundless.

The statement (No. 4) is simply based on the fact that the Hamburgers advertise in the Los Angeles Times, as does every other store in Los Angeles that does a good business.

Why do not the boycotters attack

Times, as does every other store in Los Angeles that does a good business.

Why do not the boycotters attack the other merchants of Los Angeles who advertise in The Times? They have acknowledged why—namely, because they want to "show the power of the union," and make the Hamburgers would only yield, the boycotters would retract every charge they ever made against them, give them a clean bill of health, and would actually exhort people to patronize the People's Store; and that without any change of merchandising methods on its part. This is acknowledged by the boycotters, and shows how much sincerity there is in their campaign.

All the leading merchants in Los Angeles are committing the same offense as the Hamburgers, I. e., advertising in The Times, and the boycotters could demounce every one of them with as good grace. Why don't they do it? They have stated why in their publications—because they want to concentrate their fire and "win a victory for the union" by forcing the Hamburgers to their knees. Moreover, they are maddened by the fact that Hamburger's business has grown despite of the boycott: in fact, because of it. Should the Hamburgers yield, the boycotters would then take up the cudgels against other merchants. They aim to establish a complete tyranny. They are destined to fall—to fall miserably.

Reverse the situation. Are the Hamburgers issuing proclamations demand-SES Elastic Hosiery Made to Fit this great, free and independnt city of Los Angeles are backing them in this fight. The boycotters will be swept away by the mighty winds of popular sentiment and public justice. Independent citizens, prixing their rights and their liberties, have here an excellent opportunity to show in a practical way what they think of proscription, law-lessness and industrial despotism. There will be a vet further increase in the

TELLING UTTERANCES.

Hundreds of women of Los Angeles have voiced their sentiments and purposes in interviews with Times reporters herewith -printed. They are women in all stations of life—the larger part of their working women, although the names of society leaders will be noted. Their unanimity of view is remarkable. They detest the boycotting sneaks, are annoyed at their attenut to interfere in private affairs, recognize the devices of the circular-senders as false and infamous, and express, on and all, a determination to do business with the Hamburaers or anyone else to their liking—to buy where they can find what they want.

Some of the women here quoted are servant girls; some are the wives of members of unions. The great majority of them are women whose hands play a part in the workaday life of Los Angeles. They are among the busiest people in the great Los Angeles hive of industry—the people whom the boycotters have valuly tried to buildoze or capile. They reflect the public min of Los Angeles. They speak for all self-respecting and law-loving womanhood, which stands for righteousness and condemns indecency.

What these ladies have to say is sub-at Hamburger's to be delivered, and the union spies have taken her address from the packages and then mailed her their despicable circulars. "I've seen the same policy tried in Denver," says Mrs. Johnson, "and it has failed. The firms boycotted eventually got the best of the affair, and gained many new customers because of the unjust persecutions."

Mrs. M. J. Botkin, who resides at No. 484 East Adams street, declares that she believes in fair play, that she goes to Hamburger's to trade simply because of the union's boycott, and that she will influence her friends to go there also.

she will influence her friends to go there also.

Mrs. Frank Cooper, wife of an employe of the Union Hardware Company, who resides at No. 1135 Dewey avenue, is another of the independent women who purpose trading at Hamburger's if she sees fit to do so, regardless of union dictation.

on the sees at to do so, regardless of union dictation.

ONLY ONE EFFECT.

Mrs. Catherine Berlin of No. 306 Cornwell street, a W.C.T.U. worker, declares she has no sympathy with the underhand methods adopted by the labor unions in their campaign against the Hamburgers, and that their communications have had only one effect on her, that of stirring her wrath against the senders for their meddlessome interference with where she shall or shall not purchase her goods.

Mrs. T. Bright, No. 3121 Vermont avenue: I think this boycotting scheme is an outrageous one. We get these boycott circulars every once in a while, but just burn them. I have always done some trading at Hamburger's and will do more on account of this senseless boycott.

Mrs. C. H. Fuller, No. 419 Jackson street: These boycotters certainly have a lot of cheek telling any woman where she shall make her purchases; I trade any place I please, as any American citizen should, and do a good deal of buying at Hamburger's, I shall certainly do more buying there if this socaled boycott is kept up.

Miss. Wylle, No. 417 Jackson street: I have always made it a point to do my buying where I can get the best values and shall trade at Hamburger's if they have what I want.

Mrs. A. L. Topham, No. 127 East Third street: I shall continue to trade at Hamburger's. I have no interest in these union fights. I do not believe in boycotts. People with spirit will not permit any man to dictate to them as to where I shall continue to trade at Hamburger's. I have no interest: I want the continue to trade at Hamburger's. I have no interest in these union fights. I do not believe in boycotts. People with spirit will not permit any man to dictate to them as to where I shall continue to trade at Hamburger's. I have no interest in these trading shall be done.

WILL GO THERE ALL THE MORE.

Mrs. Acle M. Ball, No. 2377 Scarff street; says: "I am tired of getting those annoying circulars. They make ONLY ONE EFFECT.

me believe that the boycotters are my enemies, and I go to Hamburger's all the more on account of them."

Mrs. Aller. Hancock, Carondelet and Seventh, says: "I don't approve of the boycotters, and I burn up all their circulars. I trade where I please, and shall continue to go to Hamburger's."

Mrs. J. A. Whitaker, Garvanza, says: "I am a regular customer of Hamburger's, and don't believe a word in the boycotting circulars."

Mrs. Anna Kennell, No. 433 Park View avenue: I know the Harburger store is a spiendid place to trade in, and I shall go there, boycotters or no boycotters.

GOOD REASONS.

Miss Jessic Dehmlow, Union avenue, says: "I don't like to be hounded by these boycotters." They assaulted my cousin and are persecuting me with their, ards and circulars. I shall trade just where they don't want me to."

Mrs. Gertrude Foster, No. 433 Park View avenue, says: "These boycotters attacked my brother because he didn't do as they wanted him to, and now they are following me up. They can't keep me from shopping at the People's Store, though."

Mrs. James A. Montgomery, No. 747
South Bonnie Brae street: I don't favor unions or boycotting in any way, and I am especially opposed to boycotting. I have received several circulars, asking me not to trade with Hamburger's, and I feel provoked to think that anyone would ask me not to trade with them. If what the circulars contained were true it would be a different matter, but I know there is not one word of truth in what they state about the People's Store, consequently I am not affected in the least.

Mrs. Gregory Perkins, No. 505 West Twenty-first street: I have the greatest respect for the People's Store and the stand they have taken in the union matter.

Mrs. Ferd K. Rule. No. 721 West

the stand they have taken in the union matter.

Mrs. Ferd K. Rule, No. 721 West Washington street: I don't favor unionism or boycotting. I am opposed to sympathetic strikes, and do not think that because one man or a body of men strike that they should use their influence in getting others to follow suit. The circulars sent out by the union against the People's Store will have no effect on me, as I trade there if I want to do so, regardless of the stand that the boycotters have taken.

there if I want to do so, regardless of the stand that the boycotters have taken.

Mrs. Arthur L. Hawes, No. 943 Burlington avenue: I have been annoyed by receiving letters sent out by the union asking ine not to trade with Hamburger's, and I was so provoked at receiving such a request that I took one letter down to the store, where I trade a great deal. I think the stand the union has taken is very childish, and I do feel so sorry for the families of union men, who are hurt by their actions. If they could only realize that they are hurting themselves and their families, and really benefiting the People's Store, I think that they would refrain from such conduct. I heartily favor the stand The Times and Hamburgers'. I have always received the most courteous treatment while trading with Hamburgers'. I heartily favor the stand The Times has taken in this strike and boycotting matter, and my sympathy is with Hamburgers'. I have a horror of the unions, and favor an organization that opposes them.

Mrs. L. M. Wilson, agent, Byrne Block: I think that boycotting is a rank outrage, and I shall trade at the People's Store as long as I have the price to pay for what I want:

Mrs. M. W. Everhardy, No. 1820

GOOD, GOOD!

Mrs. M. W. Everhardy. No. 1830

South Burlington avenue: I think that this boycotting business is the most despicable outrage that has ever been union asking me not to trade with Hamburger's, and I think it is an insult for such people to dictate to the public where they shall trade, etc. I can't find words in the English vocabulary to express myself sufficiently in opposition to such brazenry.

do. The fact is, I buy anything and everything I need, and some things which I don't need, at Hamburger's store, and I try to persuade all my friends to buy there, for two reasons: The goods have always been satisfactory, and the Typographical Union does not want me to patronize them."

Mrs. S. A. Rendall, No. 906 South Alvarado street: I certainly do not approve of the union, and especially am I opposed to boycotting. I think that unions and trusts are appailing to the country. The unions affect the help in the kitchens, and things have come to such a pass that one's servant demands more of their employer than the employer asks of the servant. Not only does it affect public matters, but it is drifting into the home life to such a great extent that I fear it will be the means of breaking up homes.

Mrs. W. W. Neuer, No. 431 South Bonnie Brae street: I do not favor unions or boycotts.

Mra. Josephine Eaton, No. 219 East shall do as I please as to where I trade. Have always been well treated at Hamburger's. I have no sympathy with strikes and unions, and the boycott i think abominable. I would now go out of my way to patronize Hamburger's store.

Mrs. J. C. Donaldson, No. 1020 Twenty-fifth street: I don't believe in unions, and I certainly will not be dictated to as to where I shall trade. We have for years patronized the boycotted firm, and shall continue to do so. This boycott only makes friends for the house. All the unions in Christendom cannot put the Hamburgers out of business.

DIRTY CHRCULARS.

Mrs. Donald Barker, No. 641 Union avenue. It makes me hate the methods

Mrs. C. S. DeLano, No. 2510 West Eighth street. I have no use for boycotters of any kind. We always trade where we please, and will go to Hamburger's just as we always have.

Mrs. W. H. Mooers, No. 818 Bonnie Brae. I tear up those circulars the minute I get them, and go to Hamburger's all the more quickly.

Mrs. Frances E. Burton, No. 508 Coronado street. I get the impudent boycotting circulars attacking the Hamburgers now and then. The circulars go in the nearest fire and I go to Hamburgers all the more as a protest against such dictation about my business.

DON'T AFFECT SERVANT GIRLS.

THEY STIR UP RESISTANCE. Mrs. Charles Charnock of No. 354 North Breed street, wife of a wellknown pioneer of this city, says she has been a regular customer of Hamburger's for many years; in fact, ever since they ran a small store over on Main street. "I have always found them honorable and fair in their dealings, and I certainly intend to continue trading there. The labor unions have been snnoying me with their insulting 'literature, and it certainly has the effect on me of increasing my championship of the Hamburgers in this unjust warfare. I despise the sneaking methods employed by the unions, and I have Americanism enough to resent their impertinence. They are not only wasting their literature, but are strring me up to active resistance."

Mrs. S. Bowers, wife of Dr. Stephen
Bowers, State Geologist, of No. 135 Dewey avenue, has been receiving the impudent circulars of the union boycotters, and they have been promptly consigned to the waste basket. Dr. and Mrs. Bowers have had a surfelt of the contemptible and underhand methods of the labor unions, when the unions tried to undermine the business of the California Voice by their lying reports.
The representations of the union trouble-breeders are having no effect on this household. Mrs. Bowers has been a customer of the Hamburgers and expects to continue to trade there.

Mrs. William M. Van Dyke, No. 222
West Adams street. A circular of that kind would not have the least effect upon me whatever. In fact, it would make me want to trade at Hamburger's and they make the promptly

Mrs. A. B. Cass, No. 438 West Thirtythird street: If I wanted to go to Hamburger's I should go anyhow. I' never yet have heard a single woman say that the boycott had influenced her or had the slightest effect upon her place of shopping.

Miss Frances M. Wills, No. 501 Buena

it pleases me.

Mrs. N. M. Osborn, No. 332 West

Thirty-seventh street: I consider Hamburger's one of the best and most accommodating stores in the city. I am opposed to boycotta.

Mrs. O. F. Rice, No. 815 West Thirty-ninth street: I think that card is insulting to me.

Mrs. L. S. Elliott, No. 812 West Thirty-ninth street: Some of the methods of some of the union people are very reprehensible. Boycotting is all wrong. It is an outrage.

Mrs. O. Peterson, No. 814 West Thirty-ninth street: I buy where I can buy cheapest and best. I am my own loom.

GOOD AD!

Hamburger's is ridiculous. It's a good advertisement for the house. I shall trade where I please. The Hamburgers have always treated us royally and we purpose to stand by the firm. Yes, and we will do our utmost to induce others to patronise them."

Mrs. Robert Mills of Mountain avenue, corner of Ruby street, Garvanza, looks with contempt on the action of the unions in the Hamburger boycott matter. A ton of such literature sent out by the labor unions would not affect her, says Mrs. Mills, and she will trade where she pleases, and will not allow any union to dictate what she shall and shall not do.

Mrs. J. I. Crites, who resides on Mountain avenue, opposite the Church of the Angels, is another Garvanza lady who expresses her disgust with the methods taken by the labor unions to undermine houses which incur their enmity. Mrs. Crites has been a customer of the Hamburgers, and expects to continue to trade there. Not only this, but she is certain that ninetenths of her neighbors feel likewise and that it is an impertinence on the part of the labor unions to address them circulars of the nature they are now sending out over the city.

Mrs. Louise L. Ernest, treasurer of the Nasarene Publishing Company.

No. 23 East Seventh street, the publishing concern for the Church of the Nasarene, says she is too busy to pay

Mrs. Mary Worden. No. 805 West Thirty-ninth street: Boycotting! It's ridiculous. The result of that card with me was to find out where Hamburger's is. I shall make it a point to go there.

Mrs. Thomas Lloyd, No. 674 West Thirty-eighth street: I think the unions are interfering with something that is none of their affair.

Mrs. D. M. Carroll, No. 2325 East Second street: I know where I am treated fairly and squarely—Hamburger's They suit me.

Mrs. A. R. Peel, No. 219 East Eleventh street, says: "This boycott against thanburger's is ridiculous. It's a good advertisement for the house. I shall trade where I please. The Hamburgers have always treated us royally and we purpose to stand by the firm. Yes, and we will do our utmost to induce others to patronise them."

CIRCULARS IN WASTE BASKET.

Augusta Camp, No. 1022 West street: I am disgusted with the erican tactics of these boycotthat no phase of this boycott by "Hay a Co." meets my approval. I think Hamburger's should be supported in this fight.

Mrs. S. E. Rennie, No. 1638 West Twenty-first street: Yes, you may quote me as saying that I am against this boycotting system in all its phases, and that in this fight I am with the Hamburgers.

Mrs. W. N. Howes, No. 232'4 South Grand avenue: My position in this matter is that of many others. I, too, am willing to give Hamburger's all the more trade on this account.

Mrs. Rose Paulkner, No. 232 South Grand avenue: You may put me down as one opposed to the boycotters in all their branches, and also as saying that I am now more than ever inclined to give Hamburger my trade.

Mrs. Katherine Sens, No. 232 South Grand avenue: These tactics are utterly against my principles, and I also believe that Hamburger will win all the more trade on account of it.

Emma Sens, No. 232 South Grand avenue: I believe that only good can come to the Hamburger from the boycott.

Mrs. George D. Spangler, No. 238 South Grand avenue: I am opposed to all these things. I believe that Hamburgers are worthy of more trade on account of the boycotting of this outfit.

all these taings. I believe that Hamburgers are worthy of more trade on account of the boycotting of this outfit.

INSULTING CIRCULARS.

Mrs. E. A. Healy of No. 1017 West Thirty-fifth street, wife of Rev. Dr. E. A. Healy, the well-known pastor of the University Methodist Episcopal Church, said: "Those circulars are an insult to any good citizen. If anything would make me do more trading at Hamburger's they would."

Mrs. B. C. Whitlook, No. 570 West Thirty-eighth street: I think the unions might be spending their time more advantageously than in passing out such conundrums to puzsic the brains of the people. I consider the circulars they send out good advertising matter for Hamburger's. I do a great deal of my trading at the People's Store.

Mrs. A. Gray, No. 350 McClintock avenue: I am heartily in sympathy with the movement of The Times in regard to the boycotting. Continuance of present methods of the boycotters will mean destruction to the community.

Mrs. Charles Nelson, No. 816 West Thirty-ninth street: I often buy at Hamburger's. I guess the boycott doesn't bother them much.

Mrs. Charles Nelson, No. 816 West Thirty-sixth street: Thore cards are a fine advertisement for Hamburger's.

Mrs. M. L. Levering, No. 1184 West Jefferson: I have found Hamburger's one of the best conducted stores in the city. The boycott is all wrong.

Mrs. James H Hill, No. 2503 Vermont avenue: I am not opposed to organized labor so long as it keeps within reasonable bounds, but I am strongly opposed to such efforts as are being made to attack the Hamburger's business is not hurt by the boycott, It is more of an advertisement than anything else. I have been going to the Hamburger's business. The boycotting principle\sis all wrong, and therefore cannot suckeed.

Mrs. C. J. Lipe, No. 856 West Thirty-sixth street: Hamburger's business is not hurt by the boycott, It is more of an advertisement than anything else. I have been going to the Hamburger's business store more lately, because I am not in sympathy with the movement against them Mamburgers must eventually be the sufferers. I believe that a persecuted concern like this ought to have the patronage of the people.

Mrs. M. R. Reputola, No. 457 North Figueros street: These boycolters are not winning sympathy in their fight against Hamburger's. I shall trade there, if I like, solely because of the persecution they have had.

Mrs. G. M. Warner, No. 461 North Figueros street: Hamburger's department store deserves custom because of the boycott.

Mrs. G. E. Bly. North Cummings street: I do not believe in boycottung and my position is unalterable. So far frum nurting Hamburger's this trootle will be of benefit to them.

Miss. A. E. Zipp, No. 454 North Figueros street: I am willing to be quoted in The Times as saying that I am opposed to these dastardly tactics, and will trade with Hamburger's, if I so desire, all the more at that account.

Mrs. E. J. Edwards, No. 454 North Figueros street: It is time that people were not afraid to say what they think, and I believe that few people justify in their own minds such a boycott as this. Hamburger's store must surely groft by it, I believe.

Mrs. M. E. Trickler, No. 1628 West Twenty-first street: I should be giand to have The Times quote me as one whose opinion is in exact accordance with your paper on the subject of these boycotts. I believe that no puch buy-cott on Hamburger's is justified, and the matter until two hours later, when Capt. Bradish arrived and began doing what admittedly should have been done the moment the report was received, getting all the men he could out after the supposed fugitive.

The probability that one of the con-victs who escaped from the State prison at Folsom was in Los Angeles caused

The informant said he was in a closet in the Arisona poolroom on South Main street when two men, one of whom he recognized by his voice, entered the adjoining compartment. He heard one of them tell the other that the person about whom they were talking had just come to the city in a box car; that he was almost famished; that he had had neither food nor water for two days, and that it was important that he be sent out of town on the first car. The men mentioned a cafion, one telling the other that if they could get their man there he could be safely hidden until they could get him out of the the country. They pledged each other to secrecy, and made an appointment to meet at some place understood by both. As they passed out they pushed open the door and saw the man who had overheard them, but he pretended to be drunk. They shook him, and he grunted as if half asleep. One of them remarked, "That man is drunk and did not hear anything."

The man who had overheard this conversation kept up the pretense of being drunk, and staggered up Main street to the railroad yards, and then by a circuitous route reached police headquarters and told him story. Desk Sergeant McClure was amased when twenty minutes later the man came downstairs and told him the detective had asked him to tell McClure to call the detectives at 6 clock, and to have some men ready for service. Shearon decided to wait until 6 clock, and then send men to all the railroad yards and electric car lines to catch the fugitive, on one of the first trains leaving town. Long before 6 o'clock, Capt. Bradish was notified at his home and stirred at once, but it was probably too late.

strict but we cannot keep the entire territory policed every day. The recent fire was a timber fire, but most of those we have in the San Gabriel are brush fires. The last burned over about three hundred acres of rather sparse timber. The rangers patrol their beats constantly; their sole summer work is to look out for fires. These when started in hollows are stopped by cutting fire ireaks in the brush at the tops of ridges, back-firing, and by a liberal use of earth when that is possible. In the case of a big fire or heavy wind we can do nothing but confine the ravages of the flames, and sometimes not even that. Such fires have to burn themselves out.

"People in general want to make big fires when in the mountains, where small ones would do just as well. We have stringent rules about the size of cooking fires, allow no bonfires, make it necessarw for campers to put out there after every meal, and allow the rangers discretion to order any fire put out that they think may prove dangerous. Neither do we allow fires to be started within twenty-five feet of bushy hillsides. Still careless popple will get us into trouble sometimes. With the telephone, the last fire was a week or so ago, rangers are able to communicate with the city as soon as they need help and in that way we think many of the threatening fires of the future can be controlled."

DODGING ARMY SERVICE.

A report comes from Campo, a small town east of San Diego, on the Mexican boundary, that many Mexicans are leaving Lower California to avoid enforced enlistment in the army. The Rurales are after men to put in the army, and as the method of transporting is more like going to prison, not many volunteer. Any man eligible for a soldier's life is apt to be captured and driven to Ensenada, having to walk the entire distance, and is then made to serve for five years on very small pay. Mexican saddle ponies rest in the shade of American trees here daily, and men can be hired to work

AT THE CITY HALL DEOTRACTED HEARING OF REFINERY CASE.

MUCH CONTRADICTORY EVIDENCE

INTRODUCED YESTERDAY.

The Council May Pass on to the Courts the Tank of Deciding Whether the Rery is a Nuisance in the Byes of the Arguments Set for Monday.

After a protracted session yesterday afternoon the Council, sitting as a committee of the whole, with Todd in the chair, continued the hearing of the protests against the plant of the Union Consolidated Refining Company, becated in the First Ward, for one week. All the evidence was introduced yesterday and next Monday the attorneys will be allowed to sum up and make their arguments to the Council.

From statements made by members last night it is probable that the owners of the refinery will score a partial victory. It was not proven yesterday to the satisfaction of the City Fathers that the refinery is dangerous to the health of the inhabitants of the section. Superintendent Mulholland of the water department has assured the Council that all danger of contaminating the water supply can be removed by improvements which the company is willing to make. These have been the two principal points on which there has been special inquiry. If the refinery is a nuisance the oftisens have recourse to the courts and the legislators feel, that the machinery of a court 'is necessary to determine the point, in-assuach as some citizens favor and some oppose the plant.

The conclusion reached by some stated that the protestants have d a small surprise party for the res of the refinery. The assertion been made that the property of company is worth $250,000. It is al-it that the assessment books tell a rent story, and that the property turned in for assessment at a very a lower figure.

Association, were about the City Hall in the morning. They declared that they had no preference for either bidder other than for the one who would do the best work and consume the least time. They were not satisfied that the Barber company could secure the necessary granite blocks for the gutter. No objection was made to the award of the contract, however.

There was a disposition in the Council to award the work to the local company, but had this been done the Barber company might have brought suit and delayed the work indefinitely. As the property owners wished the paying done as quickly as possible, the contract went to the Barber company. When Nofziger made the motion, Skilling inquired if there was any way open to the Council to award the contract to the local company. Both Bowen and Nofziger assured him that the award must be made to the lowest bidder.

It was made unanimously.

PROPOSE TO BUILD SCHOOLS. PROPOSE TO BUILD SCHOOLS.

Bids for the construction of three additions to schoolhouses were received by the Council yesterday and referred to the Building Committee.

For the addition to the Harmony school an appropriation of $250 was made by the Council and Frank Hudson is the architect. The bids were as follows: Joseph Preter, $8075; B. O. Kannick, $8991; Godfrey Hanson, $10,400; Alexander Grants $11,440; P. A. Mulford, $9475; Cox & Bachman, $8100.

The appropriation for the addition to the University school building is $7050 and Hunt & Eager are the architects. The bids were: B. D. Kronnick, $7999; Alexander Grant, $7775; T. W. Napler, $3390; Thomas Dawson, $7250; F. O. Engstrum, $300.

Dennis & Farwell are the architects.

Engstrum, $8300.

Dennis & Farwell are the architecta for the addition to the Fremont-avenue school and the appropriation was originally $13,575. This figure included the purchase of some additional lots, but the Building Committee decided not to purchase the land. The bids presented yesterday were: J. J. Stratton, $725; C. Anderson & Sons, $10,500; F.-O. Engstrum, $12,706.

NO BLACKLIST.

Cost of Retaining Wall.

Cost of Retaining Wall.

City Engineer Stafford reported yesterday that the cost of constructing a retaining wall along Hope street from Becond to Third street, as requested by H. C. Witmer et al., would be between $18,000 and $26,000. according to the plan adopted. It is asked by property owners that the wall be constructed and connected with the west postal wall of the Third-street tunnel at the city's expense. The epgineer's report was referred to the Board of Public Works.

AWARD OF STREET CONTRACTS. Replying to criticism of the manner in which the Board of Public Works

Replying to criticism of the manner in which the Board of Public Works has awarded street contracts, Chairman Norsiger denied on the floor of the Council yesterday that any blacklist of street contractors has ever been made out.

"Just before I went away," said Nofsiger, "the Council decided to adopt new specifications for the improvement of streets, and to not existed fock instead of gravel. It was then decided by the Board of Public Works not to award any more contracts of importance until the new specifications were ready. That was done for the good of the city.

"Some time ago we found that C. L. McCombs, a contractor who was delared an irresponsible bidder by a foruser Council, was represented by a stream bidder.

complications that work was never done. In two other instances it was thought best not to award the contrart of the lowest bidder, and, as the board idd not wish to call them irresponsible the work was readvertised.

"No blacklist has ever been made out and none exists. It is a mighty easy thing to get a pull with the Board of Public Works and it can be gained by doing good work and doing it with dispatch. We want good work, honest work and we want it done quickly. We don't intend that people shall put up with dust for weeks after the street work should be finished.

"We intend to do all our work for the public to see."

Councilman Dayenport stated that because of the absence of Nofsiger from the city no contracts had been awarded as the chairman of the board had greater familiarity with the work.

It was easy to arrest the seventeen members of the Salvation Army, who were marched to the Police Station Sunday afternoon from Fifth and Hill streets; it seems that it will be harder streets; it seems that it will be harder to convict them. Promptly on time the tweive men and five women of the squad appeared in Justice Austin's court yesterday afternoon to stand trial on the misdemeanor charge.

The courtroom was crowded with sympathizers and the curious. The Salvationists and their friends were some-Notziger Had Sport.

Frank U. Nofziger, Councilman of the Ninth Ward and chairman of the Board of Fublic Works, returned Sunday from a three weeks' trip through the lumber regions of Northern California. Notziger had fine sport while away and created have among the deer and trout. Business was combined with pleasure on the trip, and Nofziger inspected a large number of sawmills and made extensive purchases of lumber for the Nofziger company. The Councilman was accompanied on the trip by Jack Mathis of this city, A. W. Boggs of Riverside and L. E. Kierhaber of Redlands and F. L. Kinnear of Riverside, agents for the company. Several fine bucks fell to the party and a consignment of ferked venison is en route south.

sympathisers and the curious. The Salvationists and their friends were somewhat anaious. Their church is the streets; their chapels have the vault of heaven for a dome and the curb stone for a mourners' beach. The cerner that is now denied them is very dear to the hearts of the Salvationists. If this place is refused them, then under the ordinance, other sites will be forbidden as well.

After the long list of names was called off the city prosecutor notified the court that no complaints had been issued; that he wanted to look more closely into the law; that he was not convinced that there had been a violation of the ordinance.

Like a breath of perfume, and a flood of light, sweetening and brightening the old courtroom, where drunks and thieves and shameless women sat scowling and sodden, eame the softly spoken. "Thank God," from the men and women of the Salvation Army. They were ordered to appear in court this afternoon at 1 o'clock, when the District Attorney, will announce his decision as to whether the Salvationists are to be prosecuted or not.

"I am not satisfied," said Mr. Fred-rickson, "that the ordinance contamplates the prohibition of meetings by the Salvation Army within the restricted district. If the letter of the erickson. If the letter of the ordinance were strictly observed, n. congregations of people on the street would be permitted. For in tance, when the crowds assemble on the streets in front of newspaper offices next Friday night to hear the returns from the prize fight, every person in that crowd would be guilty of violating the ordinance.

E. L. Brady, who beat Mabel Smith, an Alameda-street prostitute, was fined 25 in the Police Court yesterday. The woman was in court with a battered face and purple marks that looked ghastly through a coating of paint.

Viola Sexton pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy preferred against her, and will appear for sentence to-morrow morning in the Police Court. MOXLET REARRESTED. Judson T. Moxley, who is charged with attempt to commit a felony upon the person of a little girl at Avaion, was rearrested yesterday and taken before Justice Pierce. He was out on $1000 cash bail and the District Attorney thought this too small for a felony charge of that nature. His bond this time was fixed at $4000, or $2000 cash. Later in the day, he put up $2000 and was released.

Of all the opportunities for profitable investment in beach lots, this is positively the best. The most thorough investigation will prove this assertion. Now, while prices are low is the time to buy, Rapid transit is assured, as line is now building. This will make it easier of access from all points in Southern California than any other beach. reproductive system. Varicocele

Many men have treated for this diseased 'condition and few have found permanent cure. My treatment is thorough and cures in 4 to 6 days, and there is no relapse of the old weakness that accompanied the disease. The treatment is direct and for the exact cause, and is the most effective yet known.

I cure these allments more quickity, with less pain and inconvenience, than anyone claiming to ireat successfully these conditions.
Has your case become chronic through improper treatment or by the use of caustic remedies? Has it caused deep-essated infammation and irritation in the urinary tract, as the result of which you now suffer from stricture? My treatment cures these conditions quickity and the cure is permanent.

His Cent Came Back.

Take an ordinary copuse cent piece, stamp it with a private n ark, put at into circulation and what are the chances that you will ever see it again? There is one man who says that he tried the trick and successed at it. He is a business man, who refuses to allow his name to be used in print about the store, but he tells the tale to many of his friends and he vouches for its truth.

In 1894, he says, he found a cent piece dated 1893, in the restaurant of the Lafeyette Hotel. He pocketed at for luck, and as a memento of a joffy little dinner scratched his initials on it just over the feathered head, while on the cheek he added those of the hotel. Until 1896 he treasured the coin, then drew it out of his pocket with a a handful of other change, and before he realized it the cent piece had gone the mysterious way of all money. A year ago he chanced, being of a curious turn of mind, to fall into conversation one evening with a professional beggar at Broad and Chestnut streets. He upbraided the man for getting so much money for nothing.

"Oh," said the beggar, "I don't get so much. That's all I've gat in the last hour," and he held up a cent piece.

At that moment the electric light fell upon the coin, and the business man, to his amasement, caught sight of the letters "H. L." on the cheek of the face. He took the coin and examined it more closely. Sure enough, there were his own initialis just above the feathers, where he had placed them a. half dozen years before.

At once his prejudice against begging vanished.

"I'll give you a dollar for that coin," he cried.

The beggar grew wary at the eagerness and demanded 5. Needless to say he got it, and also, of course, the

The boy apparently did not see the comicality of the situation, for he continued crying softly, while Steve looked on, powerless to help. A crying man was something new in his philosophy. "Look here, kid." he said at last. "why did you come here, anyway? You're mighty young and inexperienced for this here strenuous life.

"I had to. This was the only place I could get."

"Ain't you got no kin?"

"They are all dead."

It has leaked out that Frank Nutter of Rediands has been slated for the position of steward at the Southern California State Hospital to fill the vacancy made by the dismissal of Steward Whitaker. Nutter was a delegate to the Republican convention which nominated Pardee for Governor, and was one of the few delegates from this locality who stood out for Gage, and refused to merge in the interests of Film. It is understood that a local clique of politicians had intended to boost one of their favorites into the vacancy at the asylum, a place which they have stormed unsuccessfully for years.

UNKNOWN MAN KILLED.

"Man found one mile south of Helen. Think was killed by train," is a message received this evening by the coroner from Oro Grande, a station on the desert side of the range. Helen is a siding a few miles from Oro Grande. Coupled with the telegram is the fact that the conductor on the in-coming overland today was short a passenger on arriving here. The name of the passenger is unknown, but he came from the East and was ticketed for Temecula, and should have changed cars here. The theory is that the man found dead on the desert is the missing passenger.

VARIOUS ABNORMAL CAUSES WHICH THE VITALITY OF THE BODY. MUSCLE TENSION, PURPOSELESS MOVE-MENTS, EXCITEMENT, ETC., DEPLETE

BY W. R. C. LATSON, M.D.

N FORMER articles dealing with this subject we have fully explained that the human body is merely a sm for converting the energy potential in food, water and air into energy manifested as heat and muscular activity. We have also taken up at some length the conditions by the observance of which the maximum amount of energy may be realized from food and water and air.

DEPLETENTS OF VITALITY. rmal and normal, unnecessar

-abnormal and normal, unnecessary and legitimate.

First among the abnormal depletents of vital force may be mentioned the condition first diagnosed by the writer and designated by him hyperinnervation. This term implies an excess of motor nervous energy sent to the muscles. Two forms of the trouble have been distinguished, static hyperinnervation and motor hyperinnervation. The former is characterized by muscular tension, most noticeable through rigidity in the arms, hands and body. Clinched fingers, drawn brows, folded arms and a fixed and contracted chest are prominent symptoms. Motor on are also common causes.

casioning a heavy drain upon the vitality. Let us take for example a very common phenomenon among men and women of the average type—anger. In anger the breath is held or is taken in quick, forcible gasps. The heart beats very rapidly, or sometimes with thick, labored beats somewhat less rapid. There is general muscular tension and, usually, flushing of the surface (vascular distension.) The pallor is the concomitant of the slow, labored heart beat, the flushing of the lighter rapid heart action. The sudden flushing means a withdrawal of the blood from the internal grgans to the blood tubes, the velns and arteries. "RACING" OF THE HEART.

Any one who has been on an ocean liner knows what happens when, through pitching of the boat, her stern is lifted out of the water, and the propeller 'fraces' for a few seconds. propeller 'fraces' for a few seconds. Few, perhaps, know that this "racing" was for many years, and in spite of all mechanical ingenuity, still is, a grave danger to the engines. Many serious accidents to the engines have resulted from it. Now this sudden withdrawal of the blood from the heart and other central organs to the blood tubes causes the heart to "race," giving us the quick, light beat accompanying the flush of anger, annoyance or embarrassment. And this racing of the heart is the more destructive to the body because the body is infinitely more complex and delicate than all the steam engines of the world combined into one great mechanism.

The point is that in anger this general disturbance of the blood stream, the heart action, the breathing and the muscular activities (to say nothing of certain effects upon the secretory organs which cannot be here discussed)—this general disturbance depletes the vitality in two ways: First, by interfering with the rhythmical action of the energy-making organs. Second, by the heavy demand upon the vitality to correct the disturbance and reëstablish physiologic rhythm.

What has been said of anger is true of all emotional disturbances. All are heavy depletents of vitality. The great the is calm because he is great, but it is also true that he is great and wise and long-lived because he is calm—because calmness conduces to increase of vitality and because vitality is the force behind all human achievement, physical, mental and spiritual.

The man who would increase is vitality should beware of all emotional hind all human achievement, physical, mental and spiritual.

The man who would increase his vitality should beware of all emotional excitement. Every sigh, trembling, flushing, paling are all depletents of vitality—depletents which involve no income.

WASTEFUL "PLEASURE."
No less depleting to the vitality are many forms of what is called "pleasure," or ofttimes, with fine, innocent irony, "recreation." Gambling is a most striking example of this. Here the intensification of interest where perhaps wealth and power or ruin and disgrace are in the issue—even where the stake is trifling—the physiologic disturbance is profound and destructive. Dancing, dinners, theater going, society—any of these may be so followed as to be depleting to the vital forces. On the other hand, properly utilized all may be distinctly beneficial. Drug stimulation means nothing more or less than poisoning. The effort of the vital organs to antidote or to throw off these poisons and their paralyzing effects upon the nerves produce the effect for the sake of which they are taken. The general uprising of the systemic activities to expel the intruding irritant poison produces the temporary impression of increased force. But the force is merely called out—it is not produced. The deadly reaction must follow as long as there is left any reserve of nervous vitality. When that reserve is exhausted—collapse.

Now it is quite possible to so train the body and mind as to be practically free from she destructive habit of hyperinnervation. It is quite possible to achieve a degree of mental poise and calimness. This latter will of course be limited in accordance with the temperament, habits and resolution of the individual. It is of course perfectly practicable to abstain from drug stimulation. In cases under the observation of the writer where this has been attempted by rational methods there has been an almost incredible increase in mental energy and acuteness and in both mental and physical power. All this simply through controlling three bad habits—hyperinnervation, emotional excitement and drug taking.

So much for the abnormal acts which deplete vitality. Then we have also the normal acts which deplete vitality.

sses by which the life of the body s maintained. The amount of energexpended by the body in these acts is is maintained. The amount of energy expended by the body in these acts is about 1209 foot tons—that is, equivalent to the day's work of a gang of twelve men at hard labor. Now all of these activities not only use up but make energy, and by a knowledge of the workings of the body we can so economize the expenditure and increase the income as to increase the vital energy to a surprising extent.

We have seen that by proper food one can enormously economize the vital outlay incidental to digestion and excreting food matters as well as protect the body against being poisoned by retained waste. It is only necessary to add here that by free water drinking, proper exercise, full breathing and correct attitudes of mind and body the other vital functions, such as absorption, assimilation, circulation, heat production, mentation, etc., can be conducted with such an economy of the vital force as frequently to regenerate the entire organism.

As regards exercise we would state that all muscular action, labor, exercise or play is in the physiologic sense work that is depletent of vitality than they use up. Other kinds of muscular activity use up much energy and produce little. This matter has been treated more fully in the writer's articles on physical development, which have lately appeared in this column.

DOING WORK EASILY.

Then comes work—the chosen activity of the individual. It—is to ac-

Then comes work—the chosen ac-tivity of the individual. It is to ac-somplish this work more easily and more efficiently that increased vitality is usually desired. Here even more, is usually desired. Here even more, perhaps, than in other activities may the principles of calmness and of nervous economy be applied. Through a study and careful practice of the proper exercises (see former articles on that subject in this column) the body may be trained to move so easily and economically that physical fatigue becomes practically unknown. Fatigue is the result not so much of the movements executed as of the waste of force in making the movements. Any adult who has ever romped with a child must have hoticed the superior endurance of the child. Why is this? Because the child moves easily, lightly, gracefully, using for each motion only just enough and no more effort than is necessary to make the movement. The adult who has lost the delicacy of muscular sense so characteristic of the child and of the normal adult makes his motions heavily, using up for each motion from four to twenty times the force required. Is there any wonder that the child can outdo the adult in endurance?

One can and should learn to work easily and without strain. It is safe to say that the work that must be strained at hal better be left undone. For not the work but the human being, is the main thing. One whose work is drudgery las not yet learned to work. It is all in the mental attitude—the idea of the workman regarding his work. One man chops down frees and calls it pleasure. The difference is not in the work, but in the mental attitude of the worker.

So work should be done in the spirit and with the physical, muscular methods of the child at play. Such work will economize most and generate most energy. Such work will have a quality all its own. Such work is a liberal education.

RECAPITULATION.

Where all the elements are so inter-dependent any tabulation is apt to be misleading. In the hope, however, of making the matter more clear we ven-ture to append the following, which is merely a tabulation and recapitulation of what has preceded: SOURCES OF ENERGY—Food.

Kind, quantity, frequency of means, conditions of individual, mental, physical. Fluids. Air. Method of breathing, ventilation, exercise.

forms of abnormal nervous activity can by proper means always be relieved and the vitality thus wasted be economized.

Emotional excitement: Flushing, paling, gasping, sighing, trembling, heart palpitation, etc.

Each of these phenomena is the result of a general physiologic disturbance which occasions depletion of vitality both in its production and in its correction. By proper mental labits this useless expenditure of vitality may usually be avoided. Exercise, play.

Exercise proper in kind and adapted to the individual requirements generates more vitality than it expends improper exercise uses up much and generates little vitality.

Pleasure: Legitimate. Here, as in proper exercise, the gain in vitality more than compensates for the depletion. Abnormal (i. e., dissipation) makes enormous drafts upon vitality and generates practically none.

Bodily functions: Digestion, absorption, assimilation, respiration, circulation, elimination, mentation, etc.

These functions, while they use up much vitality, are the sole means by which it may be generated from the food, water and air. Under proper conditions the expenditure of vitality is small compared with the production. Bodily activities: walking and other everyday acts. Here the principle of vital economy may be applied as explained.

Werk: Mental, physical.

Here also a large proportion of the energy put forth is usually lost in muscular tension, the application of undue force to accomplish the desired result. This misplaced energy may be energy put to the application of undue force to accomplish the desired result. This misplaced energy may be economized by proper mental and physical methods.

In these brief and fragmentary papers on human vitality we have tried to show that the leaders of men in all fields have possessed (and must necessarily have possessed) great nervous vitality: that this vitality can be increased, not by drugs, nor injections, the public.

It is the conviction of the writer that the most striking advance of the century now dawning will be in the application of certain great fundamental and simple principles to the increased powers of the individual, and in hastening his progress toward that state of godlike wisdom, power, kindliness and calmenss, which is his uitimate goal. We believe, furthermore, that the most important advance in that direction will be in such conscious direction of the bodly activities as shall lead to increase of human

CURE FOR HAY FEVER. Dean's Drug Store Say Hyomel Will Give Relief—Sold Under Quaranter.

The season for hay fever is almost at hand and many people feel that they will be obliged to leave town in order to avoid the sneezing, watery eyes and other annoying symptoms of this disagreeable summer disease.

Dean's wish to announce that when Hyomel is used, either as a preventive or cure, there will be no hay fever. The use of Hyomel faily for two or three weeks before the usual time for the annual appearance of hay fever will prevent the attack. If, however, the preventive treatment was not started soon enough and the disease comes on, use Hyomel six or seven times daily and also rub Hyomel Balm thoroughly into the nostrils both, morning and night. This treatment will relieve at once and give a speedy and permanent cure.

Hyomel actually brings into your own home, a climate filled with osone and healing balsams, the same air that one breathes at the White Mountains or other health resorts.
